MORE PLANS FOR THE NEW COUNTRY CLUB.

While the plans for the membership of the new Country club have not been as yet completed, several of those regarding this important part of the organization have been disclosed. They provide that all of the members of the present Country club will be invited to join the new club free of charge. That is, upon signifying their intention of joining the new club, it will be understood that they give up their membership in the old club upon the completion of the new, their only payment being the giving up of their equity in the present Country club without any additional cash outlay. A certain time limit, it is understood, will be given them in which to join the new club and after that time has expired they cannot become members of the new club without a new election and the payment of an initiatory fee that will be very much higher than that required to join any other club in the city at the present time.

In fact, it is stated that the directors of the new club will put this figure so high that in many cases it will be almost prohibitive, and that it will be in the neighborhood of from two hundred and fifty dollars up, to those who do not take advantage of the first invitation. This, it is said, will not mean that they are to resign from the old club immediately, but that their membership in the new club will begin with the understanding that upon the completion of the new they will resign from the old. This would seem to clear up the point which has been raised in many quarters that the new club was being formed for the purpose of keeping out some of the members of the old club. In the meantime plans for the club are being perfected and it is expected that upon the return of a number of those chiefly interested to the city within the next fortnight the organization will be completed and the improvements, which have now been started in a small way, will go ahead at a rapid rate and include plans for the athletic grounds, those for a large and magnificent club house, and, in fact, for everything pertaining to the establishment of one of the greatest country clubs in the entire country. The invitation to membership in the new club will not only affect all those who are members of the present club, but to those as well who join the old club between the present time and that time when the final program is decided upon.

clusively in this journal regarding the new organ-
